Q: is there any way to know the last/last modified time of files on the webserver? I am working on a project where we are required to know the exact time at which a file was last modified and what was the last modification time before. Is there a way to do that? A: If you are sure that all files are under Apache's directory and the last modified time is different from access time, you could do the following: function findLastModifiedFile($dir) { $files = scandir($dir); foreach($files as $file) { $file = realpath($dir. "/" . $file); if (filemtime($file) == fileatime($file)) { return realpath($dir. "/" . $file); } } } Note that $dir must be the directory of the script.
